MONTANA METHODS

Professor Alfred Atkinson of Bozeman, Montana, enlightened those who attended the seed fair at Lacombe on the theory and practice of dry farming in that state. He said the dry farmer had to contend with two primary conditions. First was the plant food supply, which is good at present in Alberta. Second was the supply of moisture; which is the all important factor. He stated that scientists had found that it takes 750 pounds of water to every pound of dry matter to grow wheat. A rain fall of one inch deposits some 226,000 lbs. of water upon one acre of land. In northern Montana he reckoned that a rainfall of 15 inches was as good as 22 inches in Oklahoma because of the difference in evaporation. Thus, although Alberta has an average annual rainfall of 12 to 15 inches, which puts her in the semi-arid, she is strictly speaking not semi-arid on account of her latitude. Mr. Atkinson expressed the belief that farming in humid areas was not conducted with as high a degree of intelligence as that displayed in the dry farming districts. The difference between success and failure in these latter districts often depends entirely upon the amount of moisture conserved. This feature, he believed, could be easily controlled by following scientific methods of cultivation.

Will Investigate Fire.

A petition signed by one hundred rate-payers was presented to the council Friday last, asking that immediate steps be taken to investigate the fire which destroyed the Frodoe Co's store. A special meeting of the council was held and the Attorney General's Department communicated with, with the result that within a few hours, detectives were on the ground, and are now working on the case. The fire was evidently of incendiary origin. The part of the building in which the fire started was without stoves, and Mr. McMillan, an employee of the firm, says that everything was safe when he looked up for the night, between 8 and 9 o'clock. When the fire was noticed, the side door on Glass St. was unlocked and it was just inside these doors that the fire started. Lacombe is becoming celebrated for mysterious fires, and the council is determined that hereafter these mysteries will be investigated. The citizens are awaiting with great interest the outcome of the investigation.

Unique Appeal.

Jimmy Puffer has secured a letter to hand to his friends, when soliciting aid. It is certainly unique and James should gather in the coin. Here it is:

Kind friends,
Having now reached the ripe age of 59 years it is my confirmed intention to live henceforth on the bounty and generosity of my friends and acquaintances.

I am virtually a martyr having had a portion of my foot frozen off while sleeping in a snowdrift, demonstrating to an incredulous public the evil effects of strong drink.

In view of the above cited facts I feel quite justified in asking each citizen to come to my immediate assistance with a liberal donation.

Financially yours,
Jas. Puffer.

The Supply of Moisture.

The situation with regard to agriculture in the west is beginning to arouse some interest, with the approach of spring. The great question under discussion is the extent to which the present supply of moisture may be sufficient to meet the needs of the soil during the growing season. There is no doubt that there is plenty of snow, but that does not necessarily mean a plentiful supply of "wetness." Much depends upon the condition in which the ground was when the snow arrived and as much more depends upon the manner in which the snow goes away.

If the frost had penetrated to a proper depth last fall the heavy blanket of snow which followed would have been a great protection against evaporation. But if the snow came before the heavy frosts, the same blanket would prevent the ground from freezing to the proper depth. Conditions have varied, of course, in the different sections of the west, and the experience of one has not been a safe guide to the experience of another.

The present impression is that the supply of rain last fall was too light to enable the ground to freeze hard and deep before the snow came. Some of the moisture generated by the melting of the snow has probably percolated into the ground and with further spells of freezing weather from now on a fair supply of moisture may be available. But the usual heavy layer of frozen soil must be left out of the calculations for this season, and hopes must be placed to the developments between this time and harvest.

There is one phase of the situation which brings comfort to the community at large. If the soil be frozen hard, plenty of moisture will be on hand to water the roots of the growing grain. If the layer of frozen ground be thin, the water formed by the thawing of the earth will have no difficulty in penetrating it. It is not difficult to find the favorable side of agricultural possibilities in this part of the Dominion.

RIMBEY

Mr. H. Watt delivered four load of tame hay at Cumming's mill last week. S. N. Rimbeay and son Chester helped deliver the hay.

D. M. Saunders is building a new house for his son William.

So many of Rimbeay's citizens were at Lacombe last week that we will not try to enumerate them. If Lacombe wasn't "dry" after their visit we don't know what it would take to make it dry.

Allen Langmuir made a trip to Lacombe last Thursday returning Friday.

If there is one thing more than another that the farmers appreciate in a local paper it is the local markets. We do not know why they are omitted from this paper but we have looked in vain for them several times. We know of localities where the markets are given each day at twelve o'clock over the telephone, we cannot see why this locality might not have this accommodation also.

Johnny Adamson, Geo. Raymond and another party whose name we did not learn, have returned from a trip to the Mountain House where they went to deliver oats for Wm. Cummings.

The Ladies Auxiliary held a business meeting at the home of Mrs. K. Wates last Monday.

Messrs. Peabody, Beely and Nelson rode the M.W.A. goat last Wednesday night. He must have done lots of kicking judging from the noise emitted from the lodge room. The M. W. A.'s have 12 more applicants for membership.

Six teams from here hauled out hardware for the firm of Putland & Thorp, Rimbeay, last Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mr. Thorp has just received his stock of new spring prints which are hard to beat.

Dave Reed startled the people of this community last week by getting married.

A party of friends and relatives gathered at the Marshall home last Saturday evening to celebrate Mr. Marshall's birthday anniversary.

In delivering his load of hay to the Cummings mill Mr. Watt only tipped over nine times.

Anniversary Services at Clive.

The anniversary services at Clive last Sunday and Monday evening were well attended. On Sunday at 3 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. Rev. T. Powell of Lacombe spoke to large and interested audiences. The offering of the day amounted to ninety four dollars. The choir under the leadership of Mrs. W. Allison furnished appropriate music.

On Monday evening Mr. Powell gave a very suggestive, instructive and entertaining lecture on "Succors." The choir and band lent furnished the musical part of the program.

Miss Cooper, of Lacombe, assisted also and gave a well received number. This was followed by the second part of the program. Mr. Norman Mead, one performed his part very creditably and when the receipts were announced to be in the vicinity of seventy-five dollars all were pleased.

A pleasant and profitable evening was spent by the large number present.

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union will be held at the home of Mrs. Trimble on Friday of this week, March 10th, at three o'clock. A paper on "The Life and Labors of Mary Lyon" will be given by Mrs. Bailey. All are invited.

Go to the Lacombe Furniture Store if you want to furnish your house. We carry the Big Stock and have got reasonable prices.

On Monday, March 13th Rev. H. E. Gordon B. A. of Strathcona will deliver a lecture in the Methodist Church. Mr. Gordon's subject will be "Two Blades of Grass." This will be a chance for the people of Lacombe to hear again a man who was very popular when a resident of our town.

The "White" sewing machine is a "world beater." You can get them at the Lacombe Furniture Store. Free trial.

On March 14th and 15th a convention of the Sunday School and Epworth Leagues of Central Alberta will be held at Stettler. All Methodist Sunday Schools and Young People's Organizations will be represented.

On Thursday of this week a committee representing the Presbytery and Methodist churches of Red Deer and Lacombe districts will meet in Red Deer. The object of this committee is to outline a plan whereby the two churches co-operate in their work in these districts. In small places either one or other of the churches will withdraw and thus prevent useless overlapping of churches and ministers in the future. This move will surely recommend itself to everybody. Revs. White and Powell will represent Lacombe District.

The Price of Flour in The West.

One of the evils of protection lies in the fact that it allows those who enjoy the protection to sell their goods cheaper in foreign markets than they do at home. A glaring instance of this is the oft repeated statement which is not contradicted, that steel rails made in Pittsburgh, can be bought in England and shipped back to Pittsburgh, paying the protective duty and delivered cheaper than if bought direct from the manufacturers.

A new case which is in Canada has been brought to light by the investigation conducted by E. J. Fream, secretary of the United Farmers of Alberta. He alleges, and gives figures to prove it, that flour manufactured in Western Canada from Western Canadian wheat is sold cheaper in Great Britain than it is in Winnipeg. According to Mr. Fream's figures the same grade of flour that is sold wholesale in Winnipeg for $2.90 a hundred weight, is sold in Glasgow and Manchester for $2.50 a difference of forty cents, in spite of the fact that the freight from Winnipeg to Manchester is fifty cents a hundred weight. A seven pound sack of flour sells retail at Winnipeg for 55 cents, but the retail price for the same amount in Glasgow is 25 cents, or considerably less than half the price right where the flour is manufactured. Even if the millers sold their flour in Britain at cost, which is not likely, these figures show that the people of Western Canada are paying much more for their flour than they should pay.

Mr. Fream intends to ask the millers to explain this state of affairs. That will not do. The government should take the matter up and make a thorough investigation. On the face of it, the situation looks as though there were a combine controlling the price of flour. If this is true, the millers are breaking the law, and should be brought to task for it. Even if it is shown that they are willing at a loss in Britain in order to get into the market, this is no justification as the people where the flour is manufactured should not be required to make up the loss the manufacturers suffer in order to sell away from home. But it is very unlikely that they are selling at a loss anywhere, and such a case would make it all the worse from the stand-point of the home consumers.

Albertan Anniversary Number.

As per usual custom, The Morning Alberta issued its anniversary edition on the 29th February. It is a most creditable production, in fact it is the very best special number ever issued by any newspaper in the west, and it is doubtful if it has been equaled by any newspaper in the Dominion. As an advertising medium to send abroad it is a sure immigration boomer. The write-up of the Province is full and complete, and the articles on our early history should be treasured among the archives of Alberta. The editor of The Western Globe, having been responsible for the launching of the Alberta many years ago as a weekly, and some time later as a very distinctive daily is pleased to see the journal attaining undreamed of success, which under the able direction of Editor Davidson should continue to the end. When we think of the days we struggled to get out a daily with four pages 12x16, hand set, on a press of the village of 1802, turned by hand, it makes us shiver. But Davidson was there and knows all about it.

This is the Limit.

Those who have been staggered by the exaggerations already spread about by Red Deer really men, will probably drop dead when they read the following from a recent write-up of that town:

"Of the new industries the Gatz Manufacturing Co. promises to be one of the most important in the province. Within the year this concern has built up an extensive business in the manufacturing of overalls and shirts and now employs 527 hands."

Catch onto those 527 hands! Just about half the population of our neighbor claims!!

ANOTHER DISASTROUS FIRE

THE PRODUCE CO. WAS BURNED OUT.

Disastrous Fire on Thursday Morning Does Severe Damage.

At 12.30 a.m. Thursday, fire was discovered in the building owned and occupied by the Lacombe Produce Co. on Barnett Ave. East. When noticed the fire had evidently been burning for some time for within a minute or two the entire building was a mass of flame, and beyond help from the fire brigade. The brigade, which was promptly on the scene, confined their attention to saving the warehouse which stood about ten feet from the doomed structure, and was full of implements, and succeeded in so doing. The store of F. E. McLeod, across the road, fortunately escaped with very slight injury, the damage being broken windows. The citizens, with the aid of wet blankets prevented the fire getting inside the store.

How the fire started is a mystery.

IT'S JUST A CASE OF FUNNY COUNTING

Red Deer Has the Nine Railways—Read and See How They Get Them.

To the Editor of the Western Globe, Lacombe.

Dear Sir:—In your issue of February 22 you made statements concerning Red Deer and the Board of Trade which I believe you would not have made had you been conversant with all the facts.

The advertising which has been attacked by Dr. Grant appeared last summer in the Calgary papers and was inserted by the Calgary owners of, or the agents for, Englewood, a sub-division, well situated adjoining Red Deer on the east one mile from the Post Office corner. It drew a rosy picture of Red Deer's position and future—how true the prophecy may be only the future can determine. The nine lines of railway, present and prospective, radiating from Red Deer, indicated, were: The C. & E. north, the C. & E. south, the Alberta Central west, the Alberta Central east, the C.N.R. Brazeau line east, the C.N.R. Brazeau line west, the C.N.R. "S" line south, the C.N.R. "S" line north, and the C.P.R. branch Langdon to Red Deer. Your readers may be as well able to judge of the probabilities of these lines radiating from Red Deer within the next three years as I am.

The Red Deer Board of Trade had absolutely no connection with or responsibility whatever for the advertising in question, nor has the Board ever used it.

Dr. Grant holds radical views concerning the profits which have come to many citizens here within the past year by the remarkable rise in real estate values—views which are not entertained generally, to say the least. Dr. Grant may be or may not be consistent if he describes real estate speculation as gambling, and profits therefrom as robbery. It depends upon the point of view, and I have much sympathy with the Single Tax point of view as to unearned increment in land values. But it is not necessary, therefore, to urge that the people of Red Deer are any worse than their neighbors, or have defrauded investors and settlers by nefarious schemes, lay up to time of going to prison. The manager of the Produce Co., Mr. McIntosh, states that there was no fire in the back part of the building for some days, and there were no stores in the part of the building in which the fire broke out.

The insurance adjusters are on the spot and will go thoroughly into the matter, the amount of insurance involved being $18,000.00, made up as follows:

District Court.

Judge Lees presided at the sitting of the district court held in the town hall on Wednesday last. A lengthy list of cases were on the docket for the day and were disposed of as follows:

Burke v. Podewsky, a suit for threshing bill and grain, resulted in a verdict for the defendant. A. M. Macdonald for defendant; J. I. Poole for plaintiff.

Cole v. Lacombe Produce Co., suit for payment for vegetables. The Produce Co. contended that Cole had not fulfilled his contract with them as to delivery. Verdict for plaintiff for amount claimed with costs. A. M. Macdonald for plaintiff; J. I. Poole for defendant.

Beach v. P. Riddick, Sr., suit for wages. Defendant not appearing, verdict was given plaintiff. J. I. Poole for plaintiff; A. M. Macdonald for defendant.

Morrison & Johnson v. Drader, suit for price of threshing belt and other goods. Defendant claimed that belt supplied was defective and refused payment. Judgment in this case reserved. A. M. Macdonald for plaintiff; J. I. Poole for defendant.

Drake v. Brown was adjourned on account of non-appearance of the plaintiff.

Tam v. C.N.R. The railway company failing to put in an appearance, this case was also adjourned.

Puffer v. Wilson. On account of the absence of a witness, the defendant asked for an adjournment of the case until the next sitting of the court, which was granted.

The Last Advertising Done By
That Town Cannot Be Exceeded.

There has been a little controversy going on between the real estate jobbers of Red Deer and some of the citizens, as to the advisability of lying about their town in the advertisements sent out. The real estate dealers think the fiercer the exaggeration the more good it will do among people who do not know the town. Many citizens are of the opinion that boasting of the Red Deer brand will prove a knock, as people involved in purchasing property on the understanding that Red Deer has nine lines of railway and vast iron deposits will naturally feel sore when they find out the true state of affairs.

We thought the nine lines of railway and the iron deposits were about the limit of Red Deer's reckless lying. We were mistaken by a large majority. In a write-up of that town in a Calgary paper a few days ago, the following appears:

"The Central Alberta Railway organized by J. T. Moore, of Red Deer, is now midway to completion. The right of way has been graded from Moose Jaw to Rocky Mountain House and the work is being pushed as rapidly as weather will permit. About $300,000 has already been expended. Spurs have been built at Red Deer to join the C.P.R., the big cut at Burnt Lake has been nearly completed and work is progressing on the bridges and yards. The road which is 650 miles long, will be unique in several respects. It will have a maximum grade of 4.9 per cent which is lower than any other road in the west. It will cross the C.P.R. on a high steel trestle, and the Red River will be bridged by a structure 420 feet above the ground. This is 120 feet higher than the famous C.P.R. bridge at Lethbridge."

The above is a tissue of lies from start to finish, as all who live in Alberta know. The proposed line has not been graded; spurs have not been built into Red Deer and no work has been done on the big cut at Burnt Lake; no work is being done on bridges and yards. In fact, aside from a little work done by the charter holders in an attempt to head off the C.N.R. the Alberta Central is just where it was when Sir Wilfrid Laurier was hypnotized into driving the first spike on one of Red Deer's streets last fall.

Should Run a Special from Red Deer.

A visit to the asylum buildings bears proof that the main building is fast nearing completion, and it is expected that by the end of May it will be ready for the patients of Alberta and Saskatchewan. Of course there is a great deal of work to be done yet, such as cottages and out houses. Let us suggest that the citizens make the opening of the institution an event worthy of the occasion.—Ponoka Herald.

Two Good Testimonies.

When strong men of both political parties denounce the patronage system, it becomes high time for the voting public to sit up and listen. Of course none but strong men possessing a degree of patriotic independence will do it.

Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper is one.

Sir Charles, speaking at Halifax a short time ago, declared the patronage system to be the curse of Canadian politics. And he should know whereof he speaks. He has been more or less in the game of politics from his boyhood and is an ex-minister. To his credit be it said, he has grown too big for the "machine." This was amply demonstrated in his relation to affairs in British Columbia.

Hon. Joseph Martin is another of that class.

Mr. Martin in an interview during his last visit to Canada explained the difference between politics in Britain and Canada thus:

"Why, they are as different as white from black. Here when a man makes a stand for principle or the general advantage he is certain to run into the private interest of some railroad, or corporation, or franchise holder, or speculator, everyone of whom will do everything in their power to get even with him in order to get him out of their way. In Great Britain there is nothing of the kind in politics. I think there are two causes for the difference. The first is that in this country the government has an immense amount of patronage, apart from bestowal of offices, in way of lands, timber, franchises, bounties and so forth. I mean patronage connected with the disposal of government property. The British government exercises no such patronage. The second is the absence of a British protective tariff."

"Joe" Martin has realized it by personal experience. It is the patronage system that furnishes the sinews of war to the "poisoned well" newspapers. The hirelings of the government praise their masters to the tune of $200 a day. The opposition dismantled with the sympathetic support of independent papers, "pass the hat" and dig out a "poisoned well" of their own. Then the battle royal of mud-slinging begins. A sham fight is kept up in which there is neither edification nor amusement.

The spectators do not get their money's worth. The opposition, of course, fights at great disadvantage. To it the public chest is looted. It cannot take a thousand a week for its organ. But type-founders, paper-makers and printers must be paid. To meet their demands and to keep up the bluff of "abundant capital" seasonal indemnities are sometimes hypothecated. This leaves the embryonic legislator in a bad box unless the indemnity be increased periodically.

Money makes the mayor go. The government is usually willing to increase the indemnity, because its own rank and file get itching palms, from reading in The Standard of the rake-offs that transform impecunious ministers and transplant them into the capitalist class. The length of the time spent in sham-fighting furnishes the excuse and—

The thing goes through. Meanwhile the poisoned well of the opposition lingers on dream of the happy day when its own lean, hungry and capacious receptacle may be similarly satiated. Sometimes, too, an extra allowance is thrown in for the opposition leader, just to keep him there.

This is what Canadians call "Responsible Government."

Is it not a wonder that the thoughtful men of this vigorous new country tolerate such shamming in the open daylight of twentieth century intelligence? The fires of protest are smoldering and the winds of patronage and graft will fan them into flame some day. We are today the victims of systematically legalized public thievery. It is abundantly evident from appearances, as well as shown by experience that something more than a mere change of government is necessary to change the conditions.

Tupper and Martin have so testified.—Regina Standard.

You can do this at the store of any Edison dealer. When you go, note the longer playing time of Amberol Records (playing twice as long as the Standard Edison Records); note the Amberol selections, not found on any other record of any kind; note also the reproducing point of the Edison Phonograph that never wears out and never needs changing; the motor, that runs as silently and as evenly as an electric device, and the special horn, so shaped that it gathers every note or spoken word and brings it out with startling fidelity. It is these exclusive features, vital to perfect work, that should claim your attention.

A bunch of boys, ranging in age from 13 to 25 years were discovered playing cards in one of the Chink restaurants on Sunday night. This practice should be stopped, and as the town constable is aware of the law breaking, five will doubtless be taken to suppress it. A strict supervision of the Chink resorts, should be undertaken by the police.

The neighborhood of West Rose near Ponoka has become agitated through the disappearance of Mrs. John Kristensen, who left her home on the afternoon of February 16. Her track in the snow was followed for some four miles, but apart from that not the faintest trace can be found of her whereabouts. She was demented, and fears are entertained that she wandered away and has died from exposure.

Relief is at last in sight for a long suffering public, especially users of the telephone on party lines, who have been annoyed by others listening. An indicator not only gives the number of the third party going on the line, but also indicates when he goes off. It is not a complicated contrivance, can be manufactured at a very low cost, and can be attached to any phone.

Real Estate Movements.

Edmonton parties are negotiating for the purchase of the very desirable corner opposite the Adelphi Hotel on Railway St.

The decision of the C.P.R. to move their station to opposite Dolmage St. is creating a slight boom in property in that locality. The Royal Hotel lots have changed hands recently at a good figure and deals are on for more. The Russell Block corner is also coming in for close inspection, and we understand that negotiations are now under way for the purchase of the property.

It is rumored that a large store building will be erected on the Victoria Hotel corner in the early spring.

Hop Chun and Co. are contemplating erecting a two-story brick store building on the property on Nanton St. at present occupied by them.

There is considerable activity in building property at present, a great deal changing hands within the past few days.

What About a Gymnasium?

It is about time the good people of Lacombe attempted to provide some wholesome place where the youths of our town could congregate evenings and find profitable amusement. At present the town is devoid of a place of this kind, and therefore the boys have more or less temptation to amuse themselves in various ways not considered quite proper. Boys will be boys, and boys with the life and vim for which the youth of our town is noted, must have some means of employing the time between school and bed time. If they cannot find legitimate amusement, naturally they will run into the other brand.

Would it not be possible to fit up the upper floor of the old school building as a reading room and gymnasium? There is no form of amusement so readily taken by boys as gymnastics. Wrestling mats, boxing gloves, foils and other implements of manly warfare could be provided at a small cost. Magazines, newspapers and least strenuous games could also be provided. The boys would thus have at their hands a means of putting in the time profitably, and it would not be long before the Chinese joints would lose them.

If the futures of our boys are worth taking into consideration—and we think they are—a move in this direction should be made at once. We may not be able to make angels of them, but we can try to make real men of them.

It Pays To Be a "Booster."

The duty of sounding the praises of the place in which he does business devolves upon the merchant to an extent that he does not usually realize. The success of the town in competition with other towns is an essential to his welfare as is his own success in competing with other merchants. It behooves him to be always energetic and always enthusiastic in support of his own community. If all the merchants could arrange to pull together for the benefit of their town, there would be no reason to entertain doubts about its progress and prosperity.
